NUMB. 5024

SATURDAY, MAY 25, 1745.

Saturday arriv'd a Mail from Holland, and Three from Flanders.

Petersburgh, May 9.

WE celebrated here, on the 7th Inſt. the Anniverſary of the Empreſs's Coronation, with all the Pomp and Splendour imaginable. As the Weather continues very fine, the Czarina, the Grand Prince and Princeſs, the Princeſs of Anhalt Zerbſt, and Prince Auguſtus of Holſtein, intend to make [illegible] by Water to Peterſhoff; and it is thought the reſt of the Court, and all the Foreign Miniſters, will accompany them. M. D'Allion, according to his laſt Confeſſion, makes little or no Progreſs in his Negotiation, her Imperial Majeſty ſhewing no Inclination to enter into any Engagements whatever with his Court, eſpecially at this Juncture; which, having a good Opinion of his own Abilities, he attributes entirely to the Conduct of the Court of Pruſſia, in rejecting her Imperial Majeſty's Mediation; and, at the ſame time, giving our Miniſters to underſtand, that this was owing to the Advice of the French Court. M. de Dieu, Ambaſſador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from the States General, has already had ſeveral Conferences with our Miniſters; and, in Conjunction with the Britiſh, Hungarian, and Poliſh Ambaſſadors, is indefatigable in endeavouring to engage her Imperial Majeſty to accede to the Treaty of Warſaw, as the moſt effectual Means of procuring the Peace of Europe, and eſtabliſhing a juſt Balance of Power.

Vienna, April 7. His Majeſty propoſed to have ſet out the very Day for the Hot Baths, but unfortunately was taken in the Night with a Fit of the Palſy, for which he was immediately let Blood, and came a little to himſelf, but is by no Means in a Condition to proſecute his intended Journey. The Spaniſh Miniſter here takes all poſſible Pains to engage us in a Negotiation agreeable to the Sentiments of his Court; and has even proceeded ſo far, as to offer very conſiderable Conceſſions in the Netherlands, but without Succeſs; his Majeſty having poſitively declared, that he will never conſent to any Meaſures whatever, which may prove directly or indirectly prejudicial to the Houſe of Auſtria, or inconſiſtent with his Engagements with the Maritime Powers.

Madrid, May 11. We learn by a Courier juſt now arrived from Cadiz, the agreeable News, that two Regiſter Ships enter'd that Bay on the 7th of this Month, from the South Sea and Buenos Ayres, having on board 1,000,000 Pieces of Eight, beſides very rich Goods for the Account of the Merchants. The Arrival of theſe Ships is the more grateful to the Court, on Account of their being chaſed by four Engliſh Men of War for three Days together. We likewiſe expect every Day the Arrival, in the ſame Port, of three other Regiſter Ships, very richly laden; and it is certain, that the Court of Spain is in the greateſt Need of Pecuniary Supplies; ſince they have already ſent to Italy more than Two-thirds of the Money that arrived by the Galleons. The News of the Elector of Bavaria's concluding a Peace, gives us no little Diquiet; the rather, becauſe it is apprehended that it will facilitate the Grand Duke's Aſcent to the Imperial Throne; an Event, which will be alike diſagreeable to every Branch of the Houſe of Bourbon.

Hague, May 19. General Schulemberg, Nephew to the Field Marſhal of the ſame Name, who commands in Chief the Forces of this Republick, is expected here in a few Days, in order to replace Prince Lobkowitz, who is finally recalled by the Court of Vienna. The Auxiliary Recruits begin to arrive in great Numbers; and it is certain that the King of Sardinia has made all poſſible Diſpoſitions for aſſiſting and ſupporting the Queen of Hungary's Generals, there is no reaſon in the World to ſuſpect that the Spaniſh Projects will be executed with ſo much Eaſe as the Courts of Madrid and Verſailles imagin'd. According to private Letters from the Duke of Modena's Army, they have been exceſſively diſtreſs'd for Proviſions; and it is not very probable that they will find them more plenty in the Dominions of the State of Genoa, ſince the freſheſt Advices from thence ſay, that ſince the Arrival of the Spaniſh Army in their Neighbourhood, Proviſions were become monſtrouſly dear; and the poorer Sort of People eſpecially, are on the very Point of ſtarving.

Hanau, May 27. On the 23d of this Month the Prince of Conti went to viſit all the Poſts along the Main, and the next Morning he ſet out by Darmſtadt, and the Bergſtraſs, for the Army that is aſſembled at Bietigheim. His Serene Highneſs was followed by 6000 Horſe and Dragoons, making Part of a Corps of 15,000 Men; the Infantry compoſing which, had paſſed the Rhine at Biberich and at Bingen ſome Days before. In order to make the greater haſte, the Foot were tranſported in Waggons; and if we may gueſs from theſe Diſpoſitions, one would imagine that the Prince of Conti had a Deſign of giving Battle to the Army of Count Traun, which is expected at Mergenthal the 30th of this Month. It is certain this laſt-mention'd Army do not direct their March towards the Neckar, but towards the Main; with a View, if poſſible, to join the Army under the Duke of Aremberg, which is what the French labour much to prevent; and yet, in all probability, they will not be able to do it without hazarding a Battle, and that too under diſadvantageous Circumſtances; ſince, if they ſhould be beat, they would find it difficult, if not impracticable, to retreat.

Duſſeldorp, May 28. We begin, at laſt, to penetrate a little, the hitherto myſterious Motions of the two Armies on the Lower Rhine. The Duke of Aremberg only retired, that he might advance with greater Eaſe; the French, on the other Hand, advanc'd, that they might retreat with greater Safety. They paſs'd the Rhine, with great Diligence, at Oppenheim and Biberich, from an Apprehenſion, plainly, that this Paſſage would have been impracticable after the Junction of the Auſtrian Armies. The Light-arm'd Troops of Count Traun's Forces have actually appeared upon the Main. As for the Army of the Allies, under the Command of the Duke of Aremberg, they are incamp'd, at preſent, in the Neighbourhood of Muttinhoven, in the Country of Berg. The greateſt Part of the Bread for the Subſiſtence of that Army, is bak'd at Cologne and Dietz, as hitherto has been practiſed during the Campaign.

Oudenard, May 29. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland has detach'd 1000 Men to take Poſt at the Village of Schoriſſe, within two Leagues of this Place; where they are already arrived, and have cover'd themſelves with a good Intrenchment. This Corps is deſtin'd to protect the Convoys of Forage that are daily ſent from hence to the Army, and which uſually conſiſt of 400 Waggon Loads. The French Huſſars have, of late, made Excurſions up to our very Gates, and have pillag'd the great Inne in the Village of Leupigen. The Allies receive daily freſh Reinforcements of Engliſh and Dutch Troops, and will be very ſoon in a Condition to give the Enemy Battle, in caſe they perſiſt in their Reſolution of beſieging this Place as ſoon as they become Maſters of Tournay, which it is ſaid they will be as this Day, in caſe the States General think fit to ratify the Capitulation that has been made for procuring the Gariſon, which ſtill conſiſts of between 6 and 7000 Men, Leave to march out with the Honours of War, and to join the Army of the Allies; which, however, is a Point that we very much queſtion being comply'd with.

Extract of a private Letter from the Head Quarters of the Allied Army at Leſſines, May 30, 1745.

'There has no great Matter paſſed here ſince I wrote 'to you laſt, except, that every Day there arrive here 'Numbers of French Deſerters, who earneſtly deſire 'to take Service amongſt our Troops; which has put 'our Generals on reſolving to form them into Indepen-'dent Companies, of which there are Four actually on 'Foot already. On Friday laſt we did ſtrict Juſtice on '40 Soldiers, who, inſtead of diſcharging their Duty in 'the manner they ought to have done, in the late 'Action, made the beſt of their Way to Bruſſels, from 'whence they were ſent back, under a good Eſcort, to 'the Army. The Sentence pronounc'd upon them by 'the Council of War, was, that Three ſhould be ſhot, 'and that 27 of the moſt culpable ſhould draw Cuts. 'The poor Wretches upon whom the Lot fell, were 'pardon'd at the very Place of Execution; as for the 'reſt, they eſcaped with a Whipping. There will be 'a Court Martial held To-morrow upon ſuch Officers 'as fail'd in their Duty. General Baron Ginkle arrived 'here on Saturday laſt from Bruſſels.'

The only short and infallible Cure

For that reigning Disease the SCURVY, and all Scorbutick Humours, tho' arrived to the highest and most inveterate Degree, of ever so many Years standing, and that without any Confinement or the least Purging, which by an unaccountable Error is generally advised, although always found rather to increase than confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the so much famed and most pleasant Chymical DROPS

WHICH, without the least Trouble or Confinement, or any Disorder whatever, do not only discover the true Cause of the Scurvy, and entirely destroy it, and all Scorbutick Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, so as never to return again, as many Thousands of both Sexes have experienced; and as all who take them in 3 Days time will be convinced of; they almost instantly alter the morbid State of the Juices, purify the Blood, sweeten all the Fluids, cleanse them from Impurities, and directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blotches, Pimples, blue Marks, Itchings, foul Eruptions, or Breakings out, Weakness of the Limbs, languid Heaviness of the whole Body, Wearisomness, Pains, Weakness of the Back, and all the vast Variety of Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often lies concealed under the Appearance of the Rheumatism, and many other Diseases.

And for strengthening the Stomach, immediately creating a good Appetite, causing a regular and easy Digestion of Food, and curing all windy Effects and Disorders of the first Passages (whence proceed Head-achs, Vapours and other Indispositions), no Medicine or other Medicine upon Earth can compare with them, it being certain that besides infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its Shapes and Appearances, they also assuredly and immediately cure the Green Sickness in Virgins, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and almost all other Chronick Diseases, (which are chiefly occasioned by long Obstructions and flatulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels) and thereby prevent Fevers, Agues, and other acute Illnesses.
